The Honorable Governor of Michigan

Michigan Senate

Michigan House of Representatives

This Report of the Michigan Court System for calendar year 1988 is respectfully transmitted to the citizens of Michigan. It summarizes in one volume the highlights of the judicial experience and, we hope, presents a better understanding of the work of the dedicated judges, court personnel, and the many citizens who work with and for the improvement of Michigan's courts.

Statewide statistical information by jurisdiction is contained in the report. In addition, a statistical supplement providing detailed information on each of the 241 trial courts is available in a separate volume.

I take this opportunity to thank the Michigan judges, court personnel, other agencies who work with the judicial branch, and most of all, the Michigan public, for their support of the Michigan Judiciary.

Sincerely,

Marilyn K. Hall

Marilyn K. Hall
State Court Administrator

THE SUPREME COURT

The Michigan Supreme Court is the highest court in the state, hearing cases appealed to it from other state courts. Applications for "leave to appeal" are filed with the Supreme Court and the court decides whether to grant them. If an application is granted, the Supreme Court will hear the case; if denied, the decision of the lower court stands.

In addition to its judicial duties, the Supreme Court is charged with general administrative supervision of all courts in the state. This is referred to in the State Constitution as "general superintending control." The Supreme Court is responsible for establishing rules for practice and procedure in all courts.

The Supreme Court consists of seven justices--the Chief Justice and six Associate Justices. Two justices are elected every two years (one in the eighth year) in the November election. One justice is selected every two years by the court as Chief Justice. Although nominated by political parties, the justices are elected on a nonpartisan ballot, separate from the ballot for other elective offices. Candidates for the Supreme Court must be qualified electors, licensed to practice law in Michigan, and at the time of election must be under 70 years of age. The salary of the justices is fixed by the State Officers Compensation Commission and paid by the state.

Sessions of the Supreme Court are held in Lansing where the justices hear oral arguments by attorneys in cases in which leave to appeal has been granted and which have been submitted in written briefs in advance of the hearing. The written opinion in each case, which receives the approval of a majority of the Justices, becomes the decision of the Court. A justice may write a "concurring" opinion agreeing with the result of the majority opinion but for different reasons from those expressed in the majority opinion. If a justice disagrees with the majority opinion in whole or in part, the justice may write the reasons for the disagreement in a "dissenting" opinion.

The State Court Administrator, appointed by the justices, performs administrative duties assigned by the Court. The position is established in the State Constitution.

Supreme Court Activities

The workload at the Michigan Supreme Court continues to be a heavy one. Nearly one-quarter of all the cases ever filed with the Supreme Court have been filed in the 1980's. During 1988 there were 2,666 new cases filed with the Michigan Supreme Court representing a 21.7% increase from the previous year. New case filings have been increasing over the last several years (see Figure 1.1). There were 2,254 cases completed in 1988, an increase of 9.1% over the previous year (see Figure 1.2). At the close of the year there were 1,336 cases pending before the court (see Figure 1.3).

The majority of the new cases filed (96.5%) were Applications for Leave and prisoners' letter requests for review (see Table 1.1). Of the new cases filed 41.2% were civil cases and 58.8% criminal cases (see Table 1.2).

The significant issues decided by the Court during 1988 were: the constitutionality of the Local Development Financing Act (Advisory Opinion on Constitutionality of 1986 PA 281); malpractice liability of mental health professionals employed in government facilities(Davis v Lhim, et al); enforceability of unauthorized non-plea agreements between the police and a defendant (People v Gallego); use of two-member Workers' Compensation Appeal panels (Williams v Hofley Manufacturing Co.); claims for exemplary damages under the Civil Rights Act (Eide v Kensey-Hayes Co.); use of hearings conducted by telephone in Department of Social Services proceedings (Detroit Base Coalition v Department of Social Services).

Motions And Separate Orders

During 1988 the Court issued 453 separate additional orders on motion matters as follows: 79 orders granting leave to appeal; 12 orders on motions for rehearing; 113 orders on motions for reconsideration; 6 corrective orders issued on the Court's own motion; 74 miscellaneous orders on motions for bail, for stay of proceedings, to tax or not tax costs, etc.; 78 orders issued by the Chief Justice (commonly called "housekeeping orders") such as orders on motions to extend the time for filing briefs, to place on or withdraw a case from a session calendar, or for oral argument, etc.; 10 orders to show cause; and 9 orders on motions for admission to the bar.

Grants of Leave To Appeal

Orders granting leave to appeal serve as notification to parties that formal review of the case will be undertaken. In 1988 3.0% of new filings were grant orders (see Table 1.4).

Administrative Work

The Court's constitutional responsibility for "general superintending control over all courts" requires it to meet on a regular basis to consider court rules and other matters relating to the administration of the court system. In 1988 the Court met on administrative matters on 39 occasions and acted upon 115 agenda items including appointments to committees, boards, and commissions; review of local court rules and administrative orders; and the internal procedures of the Court. Those actions resulted in the issuance of 38 court orders which included court rules changes and appointments.

As administrator of the State's One Court of Justice, the Supreme Court oversees operations of all state courts as well as of the bench and bar. Part of the Court's ongoing work is to review, propose changes to, and adopt revisions of all court rules, rules of evidence, etc. In March, for example, the Court adopted the comprehensive new Michigan Rules of Professional Conduct which set forth the obligations of the members of the legal profession.

The Court may act through administrative orders as well. By this means, an experimental "summary jury trial" procedure was authorized in April. Where the parties and the trial court agree to do so, a case may be presented in summary form by the attorneys, without witnesses, to a six-person jury. The resulting consensus verdict is not necessarily binding.

Major changes in Juvenile Court Rules were accomplished during the year, and supervision of cameras in the courtroom continued.

Among the busiest of the committees appointed by the Supreme Court were the two task forces on Gender Issues and on Racial/Ethnic Issues in the Courts. Public hearings were held by both task forces during 1988 and the groups are preparing findings and recommendations for the Justices.

At the end of 1988 the Court appointed a nine-person committee to examine MCR 6.110, the court rule governing pre-trial release in criminal cases.

The Constitution
State of Michigan
Article VI Sec. 8

"The court of appeals shall consist initially of nine judges who shall be nominated and elected at non-partisan elections from districts drawn on county lines and as nearly as possible of equal population, as provided by law. The supreme court may prescribe by rule that the court of appeals sit in divisions and for the terms of court and the times and places thereof. Each such division shall consist of not fewer than three judges. The number of judges comprising the court of appeals may be increased, and the districts from which they are elected may be changed by law."

THE COURT OF APPEALS

The 1963 State Constitution established the Court of Appeals as an "intermediate" appellate court between the lower courts and the Supreme Court. Jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals is established by state law, but its practice and procedure is governed by Supreme Court Rules.

Judges of the Court of Appeals are chosen in nonpartisan elections from three districts drawn on county lines. The districts are as nearly as possible of equal population. The Legislature may increase the number of judges and alter the districts from which they are elected by changing the state law. A candidate for the Court of Appeals must be a lawyer, under 70 years of age, a qualified elector, and a resident of the district in which the candidate is running.

Court of Appeals judges are elected for six-year terms. Their salaries are set by the Legislature. Every three years a chief judge is selected by the Court of Appeals judges. In addition to hearing cases, the chief judge performs administrative duties and other assignments required by the Supreme Court.

Panels of Court of Appeals judges hear cases in Lansing, Detroit, Grand Rapids, and Marquette. The panels are rotated to encourage statewide uniformity in rulings by eliminating the likelihood of conflicting legal philosophies developing in specific geographical areas. The procedure for hearing cases is similar to that of the Supreme Court. The decision of a panel of the Court of Appeals is final except in those cases which the Supreme Court reviews.

The Court of Appeals hears civil and criminal cases. Persons convicted of criminal offenses have an appeal as a matter of right under the State Constitution.

Activities and Workload

In 1988 there were 8,559 cases filed with the Court of Appeals. This represents an increase of 4.6% over the 8,186 cases filed in 1987 and a 693% increase over the 1,235 cases filed in 1965 (see Figure 2.1).

In 1988 the Court of Appeals disposed of 8,497 cases. This represents an increase of 13.3% over the 7,502 cases disposed in 1987 and a 1323.5% increase over the number of cases disposed in 1965 (see Figure 2.2). In 1988 42.7% (3,628) of the dispositions were by order and 57.3% (4,869) were by opinion (see Table 2.1).

1988	8,497	4,869	57.3	3,628	42.7

The average number of cases filed in the Court of Appeals per judge has increased over the years. In 1988 there was an average of 475.5 cases filed per judge while in 1965 there were only 137.2 filings per judge (see Figure 2.3 and Table 2.2). The number of judges increased from 9 in 1965 to 12 in 1969 and to the current 18 in 1975.

The averages of new filings per judge do not reflect the impact of the temporary assignments of visiting judges to the court. Therefore, great care should be exercised in the use or analysis of these averages.

The Constitution
State of Michigan
Article VI Sec. 11

"The state shall be divided into judicial circuits along county lines in each of which there shall be elected one or more circuit judges as provided by law. Sessions of the circuit court shall be held at least four times in each year in every county organized for judicial purposes. Each circuit judge shall hold court in the county or counties within the circuit in which he is elected, and in other circuits as may be provided by rules of the supreme court. The number of judges shall be changed and circuits shall be created, altered and discontinued on recommendation of the supreme court to reflect changes in judicial activity. No change in the number of judges or alteration or discontinuance of a circuit shall have the effect of removing a judge from office during his term."

CIRCUIT COURT

The state is divided into judicial circuits along county lines. The number of judges within a circuit is established by the legislature to accommodate required judicial activity. In multi-county circuits, judges travel from one county to another to hold court sessions.

The circuit court is the trial court of general jurisdiction in Michigan because of its very broad powers. The circuit court has jurisdiction over all actions except those given by state law to another court. Generally speaking, the circuit court has original jurisdiction in all civil cases involving more than $10,000, in all criminal cases where the offense involves a felony or certain serious misdemeanors, and in all domestic relations cases, including divorce and paternity actions.

The circuit court also hears cases appealed from lower courts and from some administrative agencies of state government. In addition, the circuit court has superintending control over other courts within the judicial circuit, subject to final superintending control of the Supreme Court.

The Recorder's court is a special court, established in 1857, which has jurisdiction in all felony criminal cases arising within the City of Detroit. During 1986, the Recorder's Court and 3rd Circuit Court began an "administrative unification" in which all felony cases in Wayne county are tried in Recorder's court facilities. On a rotating basis, five Wayne county circuit judges are assigned to the Recorder's court. This program allows additional judges to be assigned to hear civil cases in Wayne county.

Circuit judges are elected for terms of six years in non-partisan elections. A candidate must be a qualified elector, a resident of the judicial circuit, a lawyer and under 70 years of age. The legislature sets salaries for circuit judges, which may be supplemented by counties.

Circuit Court Activities

There were 209,942 new cases filed in Michigan circuit courts in 1988. Of these new cases, 10,287 (4.9%) were appeals, 100,358 (47.8%) involved domestic relations, 50,034 (23.8%) concerned civil matters, 48,698 (23.2%) concerned criminal matters, and 565 (0.3%) were court of claims cases (see Figure 3.1).

Between 1987 and 1988 total new cases filed increased by 8.4% (16,187). Appeals cases increased by 4.3% (420), domestic relations actions increased by 10.8% (9807), civil cases increased by 3.7% (1,772), criminal cases increased by 9.4% (4,178), and court of claims cases increased by 1.8% (10).

The majority of the appeals filed, 6,738 or 65.5%, concerned state agency decisions (see Figure 3.2). Ten percent (10.5%), or 1079, concerned civil matters, 561 or 5.5% concerned criminal matters, and 1909 or 18.6% sought extraordinary writs. Agency appeals increased by 9.1% (562) and extraordinary writs increased by 1.1% (20) while civil appeals decreased by 98 cases and criminal appeals decreased by 84 cases.

Of the 100,358 domestic relations filings, the majority, 53,203 or 53.0%, involved divorce, 15,668 or 15.6% were support actions, 21,824 or 21.7% involved paternity, 5,250 or 5.2% involved Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Action (URESA), and 4,413 or 4.4% involved other matters (see Figure 3.3). The majority of the divorce cases involved marriages with children (56.5%) while 43.5% involved no children. Between 1987 and 1988 new divorce cases remained relatively stable (increasing 1.2%). Paternity cases increased by 40.2% while URESA cases decreased by 2.6% and support cases increased by 21.3%.

Over half, 26,708 (53.4%), of the 50,034 civil filings were general civil cases while 43.9% or 21,982, involved tort claims, and 1,344 or 2.7% involved other issues (see Figure 3.4). Of the tort claims,9,727 or 44.2% concerned automobile negligence. Compared to 1987, tort claim filings increased by 6.7% while civil suits (other category) remained constant. General civil cases increased by 1.5%.

Ninety percent (90.8%) or 44,208 of the 48,698 criminal filings involved non-capital offenses and 4,490 or 9.2% involved capital offenses (see Figure 3.5). Between 1987 and 1988 capital criminal cases increased by 0.6% (25) and non-capital criminal cases increased by 10.4% (4153).

Region III	21,859	27	809.6
Region IV	11,534	19	607.1

The average number of new filings per judge on a statewide basis in 1988 was 1071.1 (see Table 3.1 for regional information and Table 3.4 for individual court detail).

The averages for new filings per judge do not reflect the impact of the temporary assignments of judges to a court or the temporary assignment of a court's judge(s) to another court. Further, the averages do not reflect the impact of varying administrative workload requirements, including such matters as supervision of multi-site offices, or travel to multiple court locations. Therefore, great care should be exercised in the use or analysis of these averages.

Between 1984 and 1988, circuit court filings increased by 23,147 (12.4%). Five year trends in new filings are displayed in Figure 3.6 and Table 3.2 (see Table 3.5 for individual court detail).

At the end of 1988, there were 132,097 cases pending in circuit court (see Table 3.3). Of these 3.8% (5,032) were appeals, 41.2% (54,393) were domestic cases, 41.9% (55,322) were civil cases, 12.2% (16,150) were criminal cases, and 0.9% (1,200) were court of claims cases (see Figure 3.7). Detailed circuit court caseload information is presented in Table 3.6.

MICHIGAN COURT OF CLAIMS

The jurisdiction of the Court of Claims, except as otherwise provided by law, extends over claims and demands against the State or any of its departments, commissions, boards, institutions, arms or agencies, except those arising from line-of-duty injuries to State employees. Claimants may bring suit in the Court of Claims provided the claim is $1,000.00 or more. The State Court Administrative Board is vested with discretionary authority in claims under $1,000.00.

The Court of Claims is a function of the 30th Judicial Circuit Court in Ingham County.

Court of Claims Goals

The goals of the Court of Claims for 1989 are:

1. Reduce the number and age of pending cases by following the implemented delay reduction plan and continuing to apply recognized caseflow management techniques.

2. Early setting of mediation and trial dates to occur soon after expiration of the discovery period.

3. Improve the reporting of activity and/or disposition of Court of Claims cases consolidated with other Circuit Court cases.

4. Expand the use of automation in docketing, scheduling, and tracking of Court of Claims cases and in generation of statistical information for reporting purposes.

Court of Claims Activities

In 1988 a special three week trial docket was established to hear Court of Claims cases. The court scheduled the 64 oldest cases and they were heard on a rotational basis with each judge hearing the next oldest case. This method disposed of 42 cases.

Special attention was given to approximately 300 cases involving corporate tax rebates, known as the "Jones & Laughlin" cases. The cases were reassigned by corporation to the judge having the oldest case involving that corporation. These cases have been administratively closed awaiting a decision from the Court of Appeals.

Assistant Attorney Generals are now serving as mediators on other civil cases not involving the Court of Claims. This should create greater understanding of the mediation process and increase its effectiveness. Mediation continues to be used extensively as shown in Table 3.7. Although not a high percentage of cases filed, this figure does represent approximately two-thirds of those cases that remain in the 30th Circuit Court and which survive to the mediation stage.

In 1988, 565 new cases were filed with the Court of Claims. Figure 3.8 displays trends in Court of Claims filings.

The Court continued the application of caseflow management techniques to Court of Claims cases to bring them in line with the recommended case processing time standards. The Court also continues its efforts to determine the status of Court of Claims cases consolidated with cases in other circuit courts.

Table 3.8 displays the caseload summary for the year 1988. Significantly, the number of cases that were disposed rose 14.5%, while the number of pending cases fell 18.8%.

FRIEND OF THE COURT

The Friend of the Court office was created by statute in 1919. There is at least one Friend of the Court for each circuit court. The Friend of the Court has the following duties according to law: (1) To investigate, report and make recommendations to the court regarding custody, visitation and support issues, (2) To provide mediation as another way of settling disagreements over custody and visitation of children, (3) To collect, record, and distribute all support payments ordered by the court and, (4) To enforce all custody, visitation, and support orders entered by the court.

In 1988 over $675 million in child and spousal support were collected by the Friends of the Court (see Figure 3.9). This represents an increase of $46 million from 1987 and an increase of $77 million from 1986.

In 1988 $149 million (22.1%) in support collections were for cases involving Aid for Dependent Children (ADC) recipients, while $526 million (77.9%) in support collections were for non-ADC recipient cases (see Figure 3.10). Interception of State and Federal tax refunds of delinquent payers resulted in collections of over $27 million.

Friend of the Court offices generated over $61 million in revenue in 1988 - over $3 million for the Friend of the Court Funds (4.9%) and over $58 million (95.1%) for county general funds (see Figure 3.11).

The Friend of the Court Fund was created by the Legislature in 1983 as a part of the Friend of the Court reform legislation. Fees collected for services provided by the Friend of the Court prior to entry of judgment in divorce cases and incentive payments received from the state for collection of child support in ADC recipient cases are earmarked for this Fund

Statutory service fees for collecting child support, federal incentive payments for collection of child support, and Cooperative Reimbursement payments from contractual agreements with the Office of Child Support of the Department of Social Services are returned to the county general fund.

The Friend of the Court caseload for 1988 was 723,672 (see Figure 3.12). This represents a decrease of cases from 1987. A Friend of the Court case is a domestic relations case in which the Friend of the Court currently is providing or may be required to provide services relating to child custody and visitation, and collection and enforcement of support obligations. Friend of the Court staff increased from 1,495 in 1987 to 1,549 in 1988.

In 1988, Friends of the Court filed 13,598 petitions to modify court orders pertaining to custody, visitation, and support. Support related matters accounted for the majority of the petitions filed. The breakdown is illustrated in Table 3.9.

PROBATE COURT

There is a probate court in each Michigan county with the exception of eight counties which have consolidated to form four probate court districts. Each district has one judge, and each of the remaining counties have one or more judges depending in large part on the population and caseload within the county.

The probate court is a court of original jurisdiction. It exercises exclusive jurisdiction in such matters as juvenile delinquency, neglect, abuse, and adoption proceedings. Another major function is the court's supervision of "probating" of wills and of the administration of estates and trusts of deceased persons by personal representatives.

The probate court also hears cases pertaining to condemnation of land, guardianships and the commitment for hospital care of mentally ill persons, the mentally handicapped, and addicted persons.

The probate court's juvenile division, commonly known as juvenile court, handles cases of families and children under the age of 17 who are delinquent or neglected and abused.

Probate judges are elected on a nonpartisan ballot for six-year terms, subject to the same requirements as other judges. The Legislature sets their salaries, which may be supplemented by counties.

Court Activities- Probate Division

In 1988 68,239 new cases were filed in probate court (exclusive of juvenile matters). This represents an increase of 4,255 (6.7%) cases from the 63,984 new cases filed the previous year. Supervised and independent estates, guardianships, conservatorships, mentally ill petitions, and adoptions constitute most of the new probate cases (see Figure 4.1). While total filings increased between 1987 and 1988, there was considerable fluctuation by case type. There were increases in cases involving testamentary trusts (10.0%), mentally ill petitions (20.3%), guardians (15.9%), escheated property (21.4%), and adoptions (19.8%). The increase in adoptions is partially due to an increase in the number of courts reporting adoption statistics. Decreases were reported in supervised decedent estates (-5.1%), independent decedent estates (-1.0%), guardians of developmentally disabled persons (-5.6%), and conservators (-9.4%).

In addition to new cases, the probate courts reported 75,904 activities, an increase of 3.5% from 1987 (see Figure 4.2). Trust registration and wills for safekeeping (30,959), assignments of property under $5,000 (6,972), acknowledgments of paternity (21,089), and inheritance tax (6,241) formed the largest groups of activities.

The average number of new cases filed per probate judge in 1988 was 637.7 and the average number of reported activities per judge was 709.4 (exclusive of juvenile caseload). Table 4.1 displays the average number of filings per judge for each probate region in Michigan (see Table 4.5 for individual court information). There has been a gradual increase in probate court filings over the last several years (see Figure 4.3). The five year history of probate court filings by region is displayed in Table 4.2 (see Table 4.6 for individual court trends).

The averages for new filings per judge do not reflect the impact of the temporary assignments of judges to a court or the temporary assignment of a court's judge(s) to another court. Furthermore, the averages do not reflect the impact of varying administrative workload requirements including such matters as supervision of multi-site offices, travel to multiple court locations, etc. Therefore, great care should be exercised in the use or analysis of these averages.

At the end of 1988 there were 168,227 cases pending in probate court (see Table 4.3 and Figure 4.4). This represents a decrease of 17.9% from 1987. Of the pending cases, 35.6% involved guardians and an additional 9.0% involved guardians of developmentally disabled persons. Supervised decedent estates comprised 21.6% of the pending cases, independent decedent estates comprised 10.2% of the cases, and conservators accounted for 16.5%. The remaining cases concerned inter vivos trusts, testamentary trusts, adoptions, and escheated property.

Court Activities- Juvenile Division

At the beginning of the 1988 year there were 38,292 cases under court supervision (see Table 4.4). Of these cases, 36.5% were formal delinquency, 45.0% were formal neglect/abuse, 15.6% were informal delinquency, and 2.8% were informal neglect/abuse (see Figure 4.5).

During 1988 there were 40,427 new cases in the juvenile division. Of these, 43.0% were formal delinquency, 21.5% were formal neglect/abuse, 34.2% were informal delinquency, and 1.3% were informal neglect/abuse (see Figure 4.6).

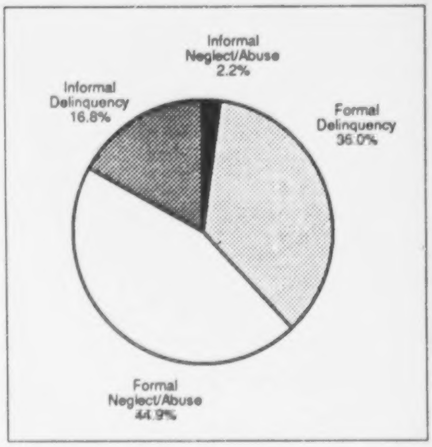

FIGURE4.8: JUVENILE DIVISION ENDING CASES, 1988

In 1988 36,558 cases were disposed of. Of those cases, 44.3% were formal delinquency, 19.1% were formal neglect/abuse, 34.7% were informal delinquency, and 1.8% were informal neglect/abuse (see Figure 4.7).

At the end of 1988 there were 42,161 cases under court jurisdiction. Forty-five percent (44.9%) were formal neglect/abuse, 36.0% were formal delinquency, 16.8% were informal delinquency, and 2.2% were informal neglect/abuse (see Figure 4.8).

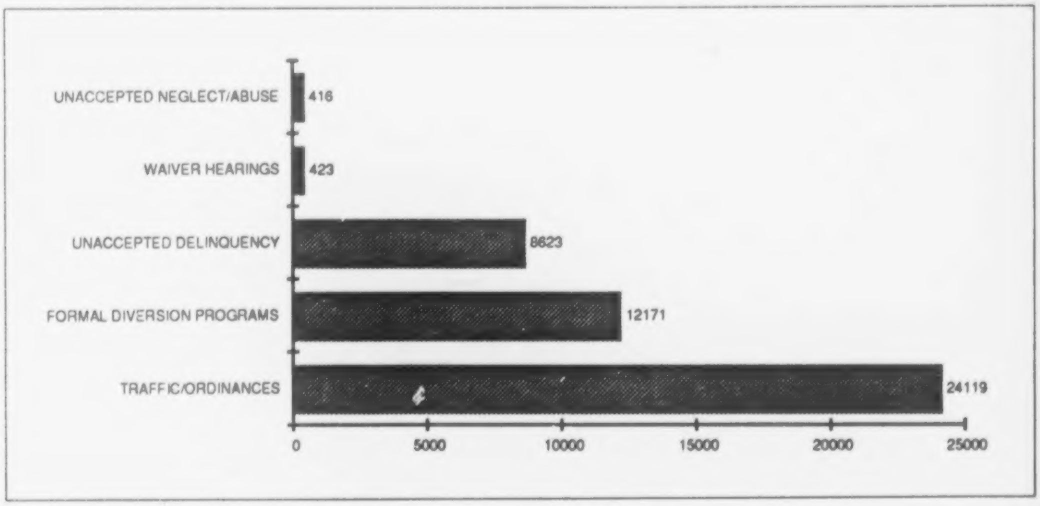

FIGURE4.9: JUVENILE DIVISION MISCELLANEOUS ACTIVITIES, 1988

In addition to formal and informal caseloads, juvenile divisions conducted a number of other activities (see Figure 4.9). There were 12,171 individuals served through formal diversion programs, 24,119 traffic and ordinance hearings, and 423 waiver hearings. There were 8,623 individuals who were not accepted for court services for delinquency and 416 who were not accepted for court services for neglect/abuse.

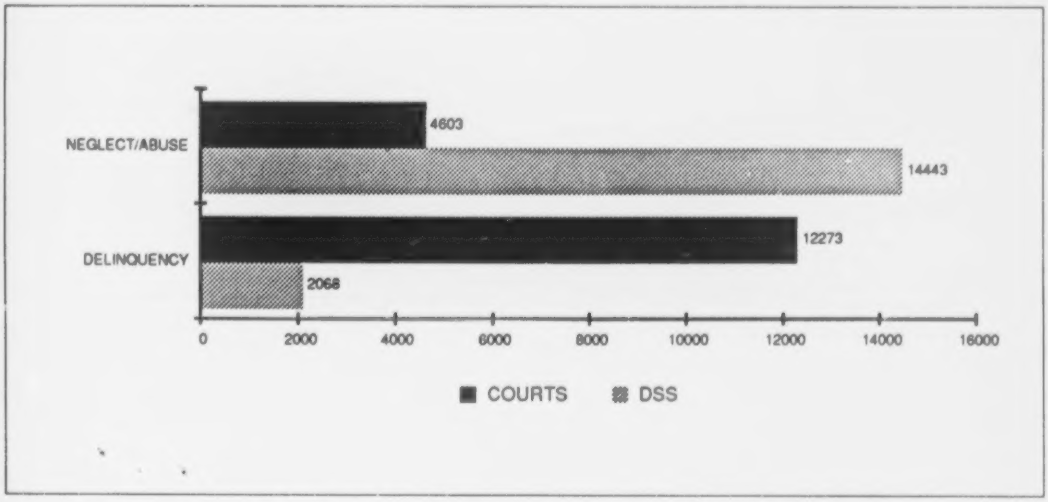

FIGURE 4.10: FORMAL DELINQUENCY AND NEGLECT / ABUSE CASES SUPERVISED BY THE COURT OR THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES, 1988

Of the individuals under court jurisdiction for formal services at the end of 1988, 50.5% were under court supervision and 49.5% were under Department of Social Services supervision. Of the individuals under court supervision, 72.7% were formal delinquency cases and 27.3% were formal neglect/abuse cases. Of the individuals under Department of Social Services supervision, 12.5% were formal delinquency cases and 87.5% were formal neglect/abuse cases (see Figure 4.10). Detailed probate court caseload information is presented in Table 4.7.

DISTRICT COURT

District Court, with which more citizens have contact than any other court, has exclusive jurisdiction of all civil litigation up to $10,000 and handles garnishments, eviction proceedings, land contract and mortgage foreclosures, and other proceedings. In the criminal field, district court handles all misdemeanors where punishment does not exceed one year including arraignment, setting and acceptance of bail, and of conducting preliminary examinations in felony cases.

A small claims division for civil cases up to $1,500 is provided in district court. In these cases litigants agree to waive their right to a jury. rules of evidence, representation by a lawyer, and the right to apppeal from the district judge's decision. If either party objects, the case will be heard by the general civil division of the district court.

District judges may appoint magistrates. Magistrates may set bail and accept bond in criminal matters; accept guilty pleas; and sentence for traffic, motor carrier, and snowmobile violations and dog, game, and marine law violations. The magistrate may also issue arrest and search warrants authorized by the prosecutor or municipal attorney. Attorney magistrates may hear small claims cases. Magistrates may, at the direction of the chief judge, perform other duties allowed by statute.

District judges are also elected for six-year terms on nonpartisan ballots, under the same requirements as circuit judges. The legislature sets their salaries, which may be supplemented by local governments.

District Court Activities

In 1988 there were 2,935,202 new cases filed in district courts. This represents an increase of 13,210 filings or 0.5% from the previous year. Of these filings, 75.9% were traffic related, 13.5% concerned civil issues, and 10.6% concerned criminal issues (see Figure 5.1).

Criminal filings increased by 23,274 or 8.1% between 1987 and 1988. Of the 310,794 criminal cases filed in 1988, 77.7% were misdemeanor offenses and 22.3% were felony offenses (see Figure 5.2). Between 1987 and 1988, felony cases increased by 5.9% (3,880) and misdemeanor cases increased by 8.7% (19,394).

Traffic case filings decreased by 22,178 or -1.0% between 1987and 1988. Of the 2,229,026 traffic cases filed in 1988, 71.6% were civil infractions and 28.4% were misdemeanors (see Figure 5.3). Traffic misdemeanor cases increased by 1.3% (7,941) while traffic civil cases decreased by 1.9% (-30,119).

Civil case filings increased 12,114, from 383,268 in 1987 to 395,382 in 1988, for an increase of 3.2%. Of these filings, 38.7% were general civil cases, 32.8% were summary proceedings cases, and 28.4% were small claims cases (see Figure 5.4). General civil matters increased by 1.5% (2,267), small claims increased by 2.2% (2,430), and summary proceedings increased by 6.1% (7,417) from the previous year.

In 1988 an average of 11,883.4 new cases per judge were filed in district court. This represents an increase of 535 from 1987 when the average filings per judge was 11,829.9. Table 5.1 displays the average number of filings per district judge for 1988 by region (see Table 5.4 for individual court information).

Table 5.1: Average Number of Filings per District Judge by Region, 1988

Region	Filed 1988	Number of Judges	Average per Judge
Region I	1,690,821	135	12,524.6
Region II	751,479	64	11,741.9
Region III	329,474	29	11,361.2
Region IV	163,428	19	8,601.5
Statewide Total	2,935,202	247	11,883.4

The averages for new filings per judge do not reflect the impact of the temporary assignments of a court's judge(s) to another court. Further, the averages do not reflect the impact of varying administrative workload requirements including such matters as supervision of multi-site offices and travel to multiple court locations. Therefore, great care should be exercised in the use or analysis of these averages.

Between 1984 and 1988 the number of cases filed in district court increased from 2,179,837 to 2,935,202 for an increase of 755,365 cases or 34.7% (see Figure 5.5). The number of cases filed by region for the years 1984 through 1988 are displayed in Table 5.2 (see Table 5.5 for individual court information).

MUNICIPAL COURT

Municipal court jurisdiction is limited to claims not exceeding $1,500 in civil cases. Criminal traffic case jurisdiction is the same as in District Court. Only a few a municipalities have chosen to retain a municipal court rather than to change to the district court.

Municipal judges must be lawyers, residents, and electors of their municipalities. They are paid by the municipalities and are elected for six year terms.

Municipal Court Activities

In 1988 there were 36,017 new cases filed in municipal courts, an increase of 2,248 (6.7%) from the 33,769 cases filed in 1987. The majority of the 1988 new filings were traffic cases (87.7%) while 10.0% were criminal cases and 2.3% were civil cases (see Figure 5.7). Between 1987 and 1988 criminal filings increased by 67.0% (1,441), traffic filings increased by 3.1% (957), and civil filings decreased by 15.1% (-150).

Of the 3,593 criminal filings in 1988, 89.8% (3,225) were misdemeanors and 10.2% (368) were felonies (see Figure 5.8). In 1988, felony filings increased by 1.9% (7) from 1987 and misdemeanor filings increased by 80% (1434).

In 1988 there were 31,582 traffic related cases filed. Civil infraction violations accounted for 80.5% (25,409) of the traffic filings while misdemeanor offenses accounted for 19.5% (6,173) of the traffic filings (see Figure 5.9). Misdemeanor traffic offenses decreased by 53.0% (-6,974) from 1987 while civil infraction traffic offenses increased by 45.4% (7,931).

Of the 842 civil cases filed in 1988, 52.6% (443) were general civil cases, 28.0% (236) were small claims, and 19.4% (163) involved summary proceedings (see Figure 5.10). Between 1987 and 1988 general civil offenses decreased by 16.1% (-85), small claims decreased by 26.5% (-55), and summary cases increased by 7.0% (10).

In 1988 there was an average of 6,003 new filings for each judge in municipal court. This represents an increase of 6.7% over the 1987 filings per judge.

At the end of 1988 there were 7,713 cases pending in municipal court or an increase of 125.8% from 1987 (see Table 5.7). Of these, 85.1% (6,564) were traffic cases, 11.4% (877) were criminal cases, and 3.5% (272) were civil cases (see Figure 5.11). Detailed municipal court caseload information is presented in Table 5.8.

State Court Administrative Office

STATE COURT ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE

According to the Michigan Constitution, Article VI, Section 3, "...the Supreme Court shall appoint an administrator of the courts and other assistants of the Supreme Court as may be necessary to aid in the administration of the courts of the State. The administrator shall perform administrative duties assigned by the court. Under the general direction of the Supreme Court, the State Court Administrative Office (SCAO) is responsible in assisting in the administration of justice in Michigan's trial courts. The State Court Administrator is also responsible for advising the Supreme Court, as well as the executive and legislative branches, on matters relating to management of the State's One Court of Justice."

The State Court Administrative Office provides management assistance to over 550 judges of 241 trial courts and trial court staff on matters relating to trial court management. This function is inherent in the role of the State Court Administrative Office and consumes a majority of the resources of the State Court Administrative Office.

The SCAO collects, analyzes, and publishes management information regarding operations of trial courts. This information is used by the Supreme Court and State Court Administrator in evaluating the performance of Michigan courts, making decisions regarding operations and necessary changes in operations, and regarding required resources. The information is also used to answer inquiries regarding court operations from the Executive and Legislative Branches of government and the general public.

The State Court Administrative Office assists in the evaluation of court rules and legislation affecting administration of courts, and proposes changes to rules and statutes where appropriate.

The SCAO's data processing division advises and assists trial courts in the selection, acquisition, installation, programming, and operation of automated data processing systems. The Judicial Data Center (JDC) maintains on-line data processing services for District and Probate Courts and provides software development and enhancement services for all trial courts. The JDC has developed and distributed systems for independent operation on minicomputers and microcomputers for Circuit, District, and Probate Courts. The JDC also supports the data processing needs of the Supreme Court and the State Court Administrative Office.

The SCAO provides staff support to Supreme Court study commissions and task forces. In 1987, the Supreme Court appointed the Task Forces on Gender Issues in the Courts and Racial/Ethnic Issues in the Courts, to examine and recommend necessary changes in court rules, procedures and administrative policies necessary to "assure equal treatment for men and women, free from race or gender bias," in Michigan Courts. The task forces are staffed by the SCAO and will issue reports in 1989.

The Friend of the Court Bureau of the State Court Administrative Office The Bureau provides management assistance to Circuit Judges and local Friend of the Court offices on domestic relations matters, and is responsible for the development of child support and visitation guidelines, development of recommended procedures for Friend of the Court offices, training of local trial court personnel, publication of information regarding child support and friend of the court matters for attorneys, litigants, and the general public, and for staff support to the Friend of the Court Advisory Committee.

The Foster Care Review Board program was established in 1980 as a pilot program to be administered by the State Court Administrative Office. The Legislature in 1986 enacted 1986 PA 159, which provides specific criteria for the creation of local foster care review boards. Local foster care review boards, composed of volunteer citizens, review efforts by the Juvenile courts, Department of Social Services, and private children's agencies to establish and carry out plans for permanent placement of children in foster care. A statewide Advisory Committee uses data collected at the local level to advocate for the necessary resources and system modifications to ensure the quality and consistency of placement services for children statewide.

The Felony Sentencing Guidelines project is administered by the State Court Administrative Office with the advice of the Sentencing Guidelines Advisory Committee. Guidelines for use by trial judges in sentencing persons convicted of felonies are formulated based on statutory sentencing practices. Trial judges who deviate from the guidelines must indicate their reasons "on the record". Data regarding the sentencing of convicted felons is collected and analyzed by the State Court Administrative office for review in aggregate by the Sentencing Guidelines Advisory Committee.

Regional Offices of the State Court Administrative Office are located in Detroit, Lansing, Mt. Pleasant, and Gaylord. For trial courts located within their respective regions, they provide technical, administrative, and management assistance; facilitate communication among trial courts and between trial courts and the State Court Administrative Office and Supreme Court; implement policies of the Supreme Court and the State Court Administrative Office; oversee the management of caseflow and the administration of judicial assignments; resolve disputes between trial courts and their funding units; respond to complaints from other agencies and the public regarding trial court operations; and advise the State Court Administrator on matters relating to judicial administration. The Region I office (Detroit) also manages the Docket Control Center of the Detroit Recorder's Court. The regional program is a key element in the implementation of the Supreme Court's program to improve Michigan Courts.

The State Court Administrative Office also administers judicial elections; collects and analyzes trial court workload and other statistics; advises the Supreme Court on administrative matters; provides technical personnel and labor relations advice to trial courts; operates a court reporting and recording certification program; calls and manages judicial conferences; develops and maintains manuals for trial courts; develops forms for use in trial courts; and performs other functions relating to the administration of the courts.

Advisory Committees and Task Forces

SUPREME COURT AND STATE COURT ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE ADVISORY COMMITTEES AND TASK FORCES

As a matter of policy, the Supreme Court and State Court Administrative Office make extensive use of advisory committees composed of justice system professionals, attorneys, and the general public, to provide advice on the conduct of court improvement projects, the development of forms, procedures, and manuals and other initiatives. While most of these advisory committees and task forces are created for specific projects and, therefore, exist only for the period of time that the initiative or project is underway, some committees are established as "standing" committees and operate continuously. These "standing" committees consist of persons who are rotated with some frequency in order to maximize input from the participants in the justice system.

The advisory committees and task forces in operation during 1988 are described below.

CHIEF JUDGE/COURT ADMINISTRATOR MANUAL REVISION COMMITTEE

CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT SYSTEM IMPLEMENTATION SUBCOMMITTEE

The proposed Child Support Enforcement System's implementation schedule was developed by the Implementation Subcommittee using three principle criteria. The Office of Child Support provided a list indicating the percentage of Aid to Dependent Children cases in each circuit. If those circuits with high percentages were implemented first, there would be a significant savings of state costs and increased collection derived from Child Support Enforcement Systems processing benefits. The Friend of the Court Bureau staff provided lists of those circuits that would benefit most from a new automated processing system. Also, each county's stated preference as to desire of when they wished to be implemented was considered. Local court representatives and other professionals who served on the subcommittee in 1988 include:

Louis J. Belzer

FOSTER CARE REVIEW BOARDS

The Citizens' Foster Care Review Board Program was established by the Michigan Legislature in1984 in an effort to improve children's foster care programs throughout the state. The five-person citizen boards are composed of volunteers who are recruited and trained to meet one day each month in their local communities to review a representative sample of cases of children who have been placed in foster care because of abuse/neglect. The purpose of the boards is to determine what efforts have been made by the Department of Social Services, Juvenile Court, or private agencies with which the child has been placed, to establish and carry out the plan for permanent placement in a timely manner. There are seven boards in Wayne County and a single board each in Ingham, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Kent, Lenawee, Muskegon, Oakland, St. Clair, Saginaw, and Washtenaw counties. Local board volunteers and others who served with the Program in 1988 include:

SENTENCING GUIDELINES ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Sentencing Guidelines Advisory Committee was appointed by the Michigan Supreme Court to oversee the development, testing, and revision of sentencing guidelines. In 1988, the Committee presented to the Supreme Court, the 2nd Edition of the Sentencing Guidelines Manual. The Supreme Court responded by issuing Administrative Order 1988-4, making use of the 2nd Edition of the Manual mandatory on October 1, 1988. The changes included in the 2nd Edition of the Sentencing Guidelines Manual resulted from five years of data collection and extensive analysis of over 50,000 felony cases. TASK FORCE ON GENDER ISSUES IN THE COURTS

The Gender Issues Task Force was created through the active involvement of many members of the community. A report of the Michigan Supreme Court Citizen's Commission to Improve Michigan Courts, issued in 1986, found that a significant and disturbing perception exists that individuals are treated differently in the Michigan court system because of their gender and that such treatment results in negative consequences to both women and men. The Supreme Court responded by appointing the Task Force on Gender Issues in the Courts in the fall of 1987. TASK FORCE ON RACIAL/ETHNIC ISSUES IN THE COURTS

The Task Force on Racial/Ethnic Issues in the courts was created as a result of the report of the Michigan Supreme Court Citizen's Commission to Improve Michigan Courts. Included in this report was a finding that a significant and disturbing perception exists that individuals are treated differently in the Michigan court system because of their race or ethnic origin and that such treatment results in negative consequences to the affected groups. Recognizing that actual bias and the perception of bias are severely damaging to the courts, the Commission recommended immediate implementation of a research program. The Supreme Court appointed the Task Force on Racial/Ethnic Issues in the Courts in the fall of 1987 to review these issues. MICHIGAN APPELLATE ASSIGNED COUNSEL SYSTEM

The Appellate Defender Commission is mandated by statute to develop a statewide indigent appellate defense system which includes the services of both the State Appellate Defender Office (SADO) and private assigned counsel [MCL 780.712; MSA 28.1114(102)]. The Michigan Appellate Assigned Counsel System (MAACS), directed by Administrator Barbara Levine, was created to help fulfill that mandate.

Although 75% of all indigent felony appeals are handled by private assigned counsel, until the advent of MAACS, no uniform statewide method of qualifying and selecting those attorneys existed. Each jurisdiction had its own method of appointing appellate counsel and of paying them from county funds. The result was wide disparity in the quality of representation.

The statute requires the commission to compile and keep current a statewide roster of attorneys eligible for and willing to accept appointment as criminal appellate defense counsel and to provide continuing legal education for those attorneys. MAACS is the administrative office which screens the qualifications of attorneys seeking to join the statewide roster, compiles local lists for circuit courts and Recorder's Court, provides training programs and resource materials to roster attorneys, and monitors compliance with the Minimum Standards for Indigent Criminal Appellate Defense Services approved by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Under its statutory mandate to develop a comprehensive service delivery system, the commission has adopted regulations designed to insure that appellate assignments are fairly distributed among qualified lawyers and that private assigned counsel remain professionally independent. MAACS monitors the process by which appellate counsel are selected in each jurisdiction, the distribution of cases among private counsel, and the allocation of cases between private counsel and SADO.

MAACS also maintains files for each appeal assigned to private counsel. Individually, the case files permit accurate responses to inquiries about particular cases or about the performance of roster attorneys. Collectively, the files provide a source of centralized data about appellate assignments.

Activities

The appellate assignment system became effective on December 2, 1985. Presently there are 373 attorneys on the statewide roster. No circuit has too few lawyers to handle its appeals or is without attorneys qualified to handle its most serious cases. No circuit any longer uses the contract method of assigning all its appeals to a single attorney for a set annual fee. The services of SADO are more evenly distributed among the counties than they have ever been.

To advance its overall goal of improving the quality of representation provided to indigent defendants on appeal, MAACS uses three primary methods. First, it attempts to enhance the ability of roster attorneys to serve their clients by providing training programs and reference materials. Each attorney who joins the roster receives, free of charge, a two-volume appellate practice and procedure manual published by SADO. Every inexperienced roster applicant must complete a two-day orientation training program which is offered semi-annually.

MAACS has developed advanced training sessions with funding from the Michigan Justice Training Commission. Each spring and fall a new one-day program is presented at four locations around the state. In addition a series of single topic reference manuals, convenient for research use by both novice and experienced appellate practitioners, is being published at the rate of three per year.

Secondly, MAACS attempts to ensure that roster attorneys are qualified to handle the particular cases assigned to them. A three-level eligibility scheme classifies lawyers according to the extent and nature of their criminal appellate experience, e.g. whether prior appeals involved trials or guilty pleas. The regulations also require MAACS to review the substance of each attorney's prior appellate work, so that roster members are not blindly classified on the quantity of their experience, without regard to its quality.

Third, MAACS promotes compliance with the Minimum Standards by responding to inquires from attorneys, clients, and third parties. MAACS provides advice to roster members who are unsure what the Standards require in particular situations. MAACS investigates allegations of attorney noncompliance with the Standards made by clients, courts and, on occasion, opposing counsel. An attorney who substantially violates the Minimum Standards may be removed from the roster.

Another of MAACS' major activities is data collection. Because appellate counsel are appointed and paid at the trial court level, centralized information gathering by MAACS is critical to developing a comprehensive statewide perspective. Many appellate assignments do not result in Court of Appeals files being opened because the cases are disposed of in the trial court. Moreover, the Court of Appeals does not collect data about some matters which affect the quality and total cost of indigent appellate defense representation, such as client visits, attorney hours worked, fees, and expenses.

To promote the collection of accurate data, MAACS has worked with the State Court Administrative Office to develop new forms including a new order for appellate appointments and a standardized fee voucher. The use of uniform vouchers by all appellate assigned counsel in all circuits is meant to be convenient for both the lawyers who prepare them and the judges and trial court personnel who must review them. More importantly, the vouchers reflect the hours worked at various tasks, the amount of payment requested, and the amount actually received. When sufficient data have been accumulated by MAACS, they will provide the basis for making accurate projections about the costs involved in state funding of appellate assigned counsel fees. The vouchers will also permit the development of payment guidelines for particular types of cases so that requests for payment can be assessed for reasonableness.

Workload Analysis

The MAACS staff currently consists of an administrator and deputy administrator, both of whom are experienced appellate attorneys; an administrative assistant; a records manager; a secretary; and part-time file clerk. The workload falls primarily into six areas.

Maintaining Attorney Rosters - Attorneys can join or leave both the statewide roster and particular local lists virtually at will. Movement on and off occurs regularly. For instance, while the roster averages 375 members at any given time, 168 attorneys joined and then left during its first three years.

Maintaining the roster involves several steps. When an application is determined to be complete, the lawyer is classified as Level I, II, or III. The trial courts whose lists the lawyer wishes to join are notified. The lawyer receives confirmation and various reference materials. Thereafter, the appropriate trial courts are notified when the lawyer's address, classification level or membership status changes.

Monitoring Assignment Process - Each trial court forwards to MAACS copies of its petitions for appellate counsel and orders of appointment. Each court also supplies a monthly log sheet which reflects the order in which cases were distributed to roster attorneys and to SADO.

In 1988 appellate counsel was assigned in 4,230 cases. (Each original order is counted as one case, regardless of subsequent substitutions of counsel.) This figure represents a 10.4% increase over 1987. Of the total, 889 cases (21%) were assigned to SADO.

Maintaining Case Files - The orders and petitions supplied by the trial courts are used by MAACS to open individual case files. Briefs and fee vouchers, which roster attorneys are required to supply, are added to the files, as is any correspondence regarding the case. To avoid duplication of effort in recording case information, additional data is obtained as needed from the Court of Appeals.

Training and Resource Development - The development of training programs and publications constitutes a significant part of the MAACS workload. In addition to program planning and presentation, much time is invested in the publication of reference manuals because a lawyer's ability to provide competent appellate representation is greatly increased by the ready availability of research tools. These manuals are supplied free of charge to roster attorneys and SADO staff attorneys.

Substantive Performance Review - At the core of MAACS' functions lies evaluation of the representation being provided by roster attorneys to their indigent clients. Where no attempt is made to monitor the performance of every attorney in every case, evaluation occurs in two ways.

Complaints about the conduct of roster attorneys in individual cases are formally investigated. If it appears that the conduct may be a part of an identifiable pattern, the attorney's other assigned appeals are reviewed as well. In 1988 MAACS resolved 90 complaints involving 57 different lawyers. Based on these complaints and the further investigation they prompted, 27 lawyers were ultimately found to have committed 282 separate violations of the Minimum Standards. Of these 27 lawyers, 7 were removed from the roster involuntarily, and 5 more resigned during investigation.

Absent any complaint, a sample of each attorney's work is reviewed in the process of determining eligibility for classification at Levels II and III.

Data Collection and Analysis - Information from orders of appointment, briefs, and fee vouchers in every appeal assigned to private counsel is entered into computer files. The data base is developing gradually as trial court personnel and roster attorneys submit the requisite documentation to MAACS. Computer programs for processing the data are also being developed. Therefore, detailed information about the types of cases being appealed, the number of attorney hours devoted to each type, and the costs involved is not yet available.

Goals

The Michigan Appellate Assigned Counsel System's goals are to ensure that only qualified attorneys receive appellate appointments, that appointments are fairly distributed pursuant to objective criteria, and that the ability of private counsel to provide competent appellate representation is enhanced. As a new and very small agency, MAACS has a long way to go before those goals will be met.

The highest priority for 1989 is it to get past the need to focus on lawyers about whom complaints have been filed and to begin systematically evaluating all roster members.

The second highest priority is to improve data collection and analysis techniques. This is particularly desirable in regard to assigned counsel fees so that realistic assessments of the cost of state funding can be made.

MICHIGAN ATTORNEY DISCIPLINE BOARD

Organization and Composition

The Michigan Attorney Discipline Board is the adjudicative arm of the Supreme Court for the discharge of its constitutional responsibility to supervise and discipline Michigan attorneys. The Board, along with its prosecutorial counterpart, the Michigan Attorney Grievance Commission, is part of the bifurcated system of discipline created by the amendment to the Michigan Court Rules adopted by the Supreme Court effective October 1, 1978.

The Attorney Discipline Board consists of seven members who serve without compensation and are appointed as follows: three lawyers appointed by the Supreme Court; two public members (non-lawyers) appointed by the Supreme Court; and two lawyers appointed by the Board of Commissioners of the State Bar of Michigan. Members are appointed to a term of three years and may not serve more than two full terms.

On September 30, 1988, lay-member Dr. Charles C. Vincent of Detroit completed his second term as a member of the Board. In addition to his professional experience and expertise, Dr. Vincent brought to the Board a special combination of humor, compassion, and common sense. He takes with him the respect and affection of the members and staff of the Board. He is succeeded by Dr. Linda S. Hotchkiss of Detroit.

The Discipline Board's role in attorney discipline proceedings begins only after a grievance has been investigated by the grievance administrator and the Attorney Grievance Commission has approved the filing of a formal complaint.

Grievances against attorneys are confidential during the investigation stage; however, the formal complaint, pleadings, hearing transcript and orders are matters of public record. Hearings conducted by the Attorney Discipline Board and its hearing panels are open to the public.

The Attorney Discipline Board is funded entirely by the State Bar of Michigan. The Board receives no public funds. The Board's actual expenditures for the fiscal year which ended September 30, 1988 amounted to $314,086.42.

Hearing Panels

Upon the filing of a formal complaint, a judgment of conviction, or a petition for reinstatement, the matter is assigned to a hearing panel consisting of three volunteer attorneys. The hearing panels act as the trial level of Michigan's discipline system. During 1988 the Board listed a roster of 334 attorneys who were appointed to serve as panel members. Although these panel members were drawn from 42 of Michigan's 83 counties, 215 panel members, 64%, practiced in the Detroit metropolitan area (Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties). Approximately half of Michigan's 25,670 lawyers practice in that three-county area and they accounted for 60% of the 140 orders of discipline issued in 1988.

Hearing panel members are appointed by the Board and are reappointed annually. The Board has continued its efforts to involve attorneys in the discipline process who represent a broad range of professional experience. With the cooperation of the Women Lawyers' Association and the Wolverine Bar Association, the Board has actively encouraged the participation of women and minorities in Michigan's attorney discipline system.

During 1988 the Board's hearing panels conducted 269 public hearings, an increase of 26% percent when compared to 1987. Of these hearings, 98 were held at the Board's hearing room in Detroit and 171 were conducted in various locations throughout the State (see Table 10.1).

Table 10.1: Attorney Discipline Board Hearings, 1988

	Attorney Discipline Board Hearing Room	Other Locations	Total
Scheduled	198	328	526
Held	98	171	269

The hearing panels of the Attorney Discipline Board may enter orders of dismissal, probation, reprimand, suspension for a stated period of time or revocation of license (commonly known as disbarment). Discipline orders include assessment of a portion of the costs incurred by the Grievance Commission and Discipline Board and may include an order of restitution. In accordance with amendments to MCR 9.106, effective June 1, 1987, orders of reprimand or suspension may include additional conditions relevant to the established misconduct, including legal education, reformation of law office practices, and personal counseling.

Appeals

The respondent, the grievance administrator, or the complainant may petition the Attorney Discipline Board for a review of an order entered by a hearing panel. The Board's review in such cases is based upon the record presented to the hearing panel and the written and oral arguments presented by the parties on appeal. The board is required by court rule to meet no less than every two months. During 1988, the board held 10 regularly scheduled meetings in Detroit and convened for one special meeting. The board heard oral arguments in 60 review cases in 1988, an increase of 50% when compared to the 40 cases heard in 1987.

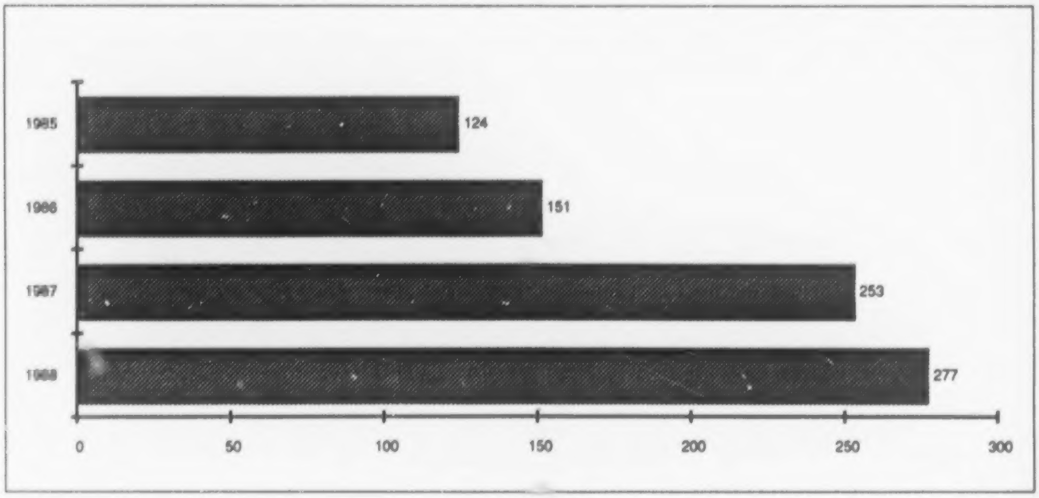

FIGURE 10.1: ATTORNEY DISCIPLINE BOARD, TRENDS IN CASES FILED

Reinstatements

Attorneys suspended for 119 days or less may be automatically reinstated upon the filing of an affidavit of compliance with the order of discipline. In cases of suspension of 120 days or more, the attorney must file, a petition for reinstatement which is followed by a new investigation and a hearing before a panel to determine his or her fitness to reenter the practice of law. Attorneys suspended for three years or more must, in addition to reinstatement proceedings, undergo examination and recertification by the Michigan Board of Law Examiners. An attorney whose license has been revoked may petition for reinstatement after five years.

Twenty-five reinstatement petitions were filed with the Board and assigned to hearing panels for hearing in 1988. Eleven reinstatement petitions were filed in 1987.

New Cases Filed

There were 241 new formal complaints filed with the Attorney Discipline Board in 1988. An additional 11 cases were commenced under Michigan Court Rule 9.120 with the filing of a judgment of conviction establishing that an attorney has been convicted of a crime. Twenty-five new files were opened on the filing of petitions for reinstatements in accordance with MCR 9.123(B).

The 277 new cases filed with the Board in 1988 represents a 9% increase over the 253 new cases filed in 1987 and continues the recent trend which doubled the Board's annual intake since 1985.

Table 10.2: Attorney Discipline Board, New Cases Filed, 1988

Formal Complaints	241
Reinstatement Petitions	25
Convictions filed under MCR 9.120	11

Discipline Orders Issued

The dramatic increase in the number of cases filed during 1987 and 1988 is reflected in a corresponding increase in the number of discipline orders issued by the Board. In 1988 the board issued 140 final orders of discipline as compared to 102 in 1987, a 37% increase. The number of discipline orders issued by the board has more than doubled since 1985 (see Figure 10.1).

The orders of discipline issued in 1988 included 23 orders of revocation, the highest number since the board's creation in 1978. There were 6 suspensions of three years or more, 42 suspensions ranging from 120 days to three years, 21 suspensions for periods of less than 120 days, 44 reprimands, and 3 orders of probation (see Figure 10.2).

Nearly half, 47%, of the 140 orders of discipline issued by the Board in 1988 resulted from attorney neglect of legal matters or failure to seek a client's legal objectives. The next four categories of attorney misconduct for which discipline was imposed in 1988 consisted of: failure to comply with court rules and/or orders of discipline, (16%); misappropriation or misuse of client funds, (14%); misrepresentations, (7%); and criminal conduct resulting in conviction, (6%).

The respondent and the grievance administrator may stipulate to a consent order of discipline after a formal complaint has been filed. This procedure, described in MCR 9.115 (F)(5), allows the respondent to admit the charges in the complaint or plead no contest in exchange for a stated form of discipline. The stipulation must be approved by both the Attorney Grievance Commission and a hearing panel. In 1988 34 consent discipline orders were approved, accounting for 24% of the discipline orders imposed. Consent discipline orders accounted for 18% of the total during 1987.

The discipline orders issued in 1988 reveal, unfortunately, a high rate of recidivism. Fifty-three of the 140 discipline orders, or 38%, involved an attorney who had previously been disciplined for professional misconduct. In 35 cases, or 25%, the attorney had been the subject of at least 2 prior discipline orders.

A continuing cause for concern is reflected in the number of disciplined attorneys who fail to respond or appear during the course of discipline proceedings. In a February, 1987 written opinion, the Board noted with dismay that 61% of the discipline orders issued in 1986 (except those based upon criminal convictions) included a finding that the disciplined attorney had failed to answer a request for investigation.

Since the Board's warning in that opinion that failure to answer a request for investigation could result in suspension, that percent has decreased but remains at an unacceptably high level. In 1988 132 discipline orders were entered in cases instituted by the filing of a request for investigation. In 55 of those cases (42%), the disciplined attorney failed to answer the request for investigation served by the grievance administrator. A slightly higher percentage, 45%, failed to file an answer to formal complaint within the time permitted. Finally, 106 orders of discipline were entered in 1988 (following a hearing before a panel) in which the respondent-attorney was required by court rule to appear and to be available for cross-examination. In 39 of those cases, 37%, the respondent-attorney failed to appear, thus waiving an opportunity to defend the charges or to offer mitigating evidence bearing upon the level of discipline.

New Location

The Board has entered into a lease for a new office in Detroit with additional office, conference, and hearing room space. Effective April 1, 1989, communications to the board should be addressed to: The Attorney Discipline Board, One Kennedy Square, Suite 1910, Detroit, Michigan 48226, (313) 963-5553.

MICHIGAN ATTORNEY GRIEVANCE COMMISSION

The Michigan Attorney Grievance Commission was created by the Supreme Court, effective October 1, 1978. Along with the simultaneously created Attorney Discipline Board, the commission succeeded the former State Bar Grievance Board. Under MCR 9.108(A) the commission is the prosecutorial component of the system developed by the Supreme Court for the discharge of its constitutional responsibility to supervise and discipline Michigan attorneys. The Commission, which has statewide jurisdiction, has its offices in the Marquette Building, Suite 256, 243 West Congress, Detroit, Michigan, 48226.

Composition of the Attorney Grievance Commission

The Attorney Grievance Commission has seven members who serve without compensation and who are appointed as follows: three lawyers appointed by the Supreme Court; two public members appointed by the Supreme Court; and two lawyers appointed by the Board of Commissioners of the State Bar of Michigan.

Under MCR 9.108(D)(1) the commission is authorized to appoint an attorney as grievance gdministrator, who serves as executive director and chief prosecutor. The current Grievance Administrator is Deborah J. Gaskin, who was appointed in 1988.

Commission Procedure

Subchapter 9.100 of the Michigan Court Rules governs attorney disciplinary proceedings.

Grievances filed against attorneys are designated "requests for investigation." Any person may file a request for investigation with the grievance administrator and the grievance administrator may file his or her own request for investigation where necessary. The filing of a request for investigation is normally the first step in the grievance process.

Following the filing of a request for investigation, the grievance administrator must determine whether there exists a prima facie allegation of professional misconduct, i.e., a violation of Michigan Court Rule 9.104. The grievance administrator may reject the request for investigation on its face or after a preliminary investigation, or he or she may conduct a full investigation. If the grievance administrator does not reject the request for investigation, upon conclusion of the investigation, the administrator will recommend to the commission that; 1) the matter should be closed as there is not evidence of professional misconduct sufficient to sustain the burden of proof at a disciplinary proceeding, or 2) authorization should be granted for the issuance of a formal complaint.

Investigations

Commencing October 1, 1987, the commission's legal staff was divided into investigative and prosecution divisions. Four associate counsel are responsible primarily for investigations. (They have a secondary responsibility for prosecutions).

During 1988, there were 3,485 requests for investigation filed and 14 matters were reopened. Of these, 1,606 were rejected by the grievance administrator under MCR 9.112(C)(1)(a), amounting to 46% of new and reopened files. In addition, 1,175 (34%); were closed by the commission under MCR 9.114(A)(2), 181 (5%); were closed administratively; 256 (7%) resulted in confidential admonishments; and 299 (9%) were authorized by the commission for formal proceedings. The pending investigative caseload decreased 3% from 812 at the beginning of the period on January 1, 1988 to 785 as of December 31, 1988.

In 1988 there were 23 disbarments, 69 suspensions, 1 disciplinary inactive, 3 probations, and 44 reprimands for a total of 140 orders of discipline. The disbarments represent a record for any reported year, and the total disciplinary actions are a record for any 12-month reported year.

Special Investigations

Assisting the full-time professional staff are some 200 special investigators. These investigators are members of the State Bar of Michigan who perform pro bono publico on behalf of the commission and who are reimbursed only for actual out-of-pocket expenses. Their function is to provide on-site investigation in the field; to develop an investigation which is commenced at staff level; and to report back to staff counsel who will then assess the matter and submit a recommendation to the grievance administrator. Approximately 1% of the formal investigations are referred to special investigators who act to supplement investigations performed by staff counsel. The commission's staff is responsible for all investigations, including those in which part of the work is performed by special investigators.

Litigation

Upon authorization by members of the commission, the grievance administrator causes a complaint to be prepared and filed with the Attorney Discipline Board. The only exception to this is in the case of criminal convictions where an order to show cause is issued by the Board commanding the respondent to show cause why discipline should not be imposed. This procedure for criminal convictions, and a companion provision providing for the automatic interim suspension for felony convictions, has been in effect since February 1, 1983 as a result of the Supreme Court adoption of a proposal by the Attorney Grievance Commission. The grievance administrator is the party-petitioner to every formal charge of misconduct whether by formal complaint or order to show cause.

Public hearings on charges of misconduct are held before three-lawyer hearing panels of the Attorney Discipline Board. In the case of a formal complaint, the grievance administrator is required to prove the case by a preponderance of the evidence. The respondent may retain counsel, cross-examine witnesses called by the grievance administrator, and present evidence in his or her own behalf, both in defense and in mitigation. In hearings on an order to show cause, the respondent has the initial burden of going forward and may present evidence in mitigation. However, the respondent is precluded from attempting to attack collaterally the criminal conviction which is the foundation of the order to show cause.

The practice and procedure employed in nonjury civil cases are generally applicable to disciplinary proceedings as are the Michigan Rules of Evidence.

Upon conclusion of the hearings, if the panel finds that the grievance administrator has failed to prove misconduct by a preponderance of the evidence, the charge against the respondent must be dismissed. If the panel concludes that misconduct has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence, the panel must enter an order of discipline which may consist of a reprimand, probation, suspension, or disbarment. A suspension or disbarment disqualifies the respondent from the practice of law, whereas a reprimand is in the nature of a public censure. Probation is in the nature of a supervised reprimand and is available only under limited circumstances. All discipline in Michigan is a matter of public record. (An admonishment issued by the commission is confidential and is an administrative warning not constituting discipline.)

Any party, including the complainant who filed the request for investigation, may appeal an order of a hearing panel, as of right, to the Attorney Discipline Board and may seek leave to appeal to the Supreme Court from an order of the Attorney Discipline Board.

Effective October 1, 1987 separate investigative and prosecution divisions were implemented. The grievance administrator, deputy grievance administrator, and two senior associate counsel have primary responsibility for prosecutions, with limited investigative responsibility. The other four associate counsel have primary responsibility for investigations and secondary responsibility for prosecutions.

In the early 1970's, disciplinary prosecutions were performed by staff counsel in only 10% of all cases with special counsel being responsible for the balance. At the inception of the Attorney Grievance Commission in 1978, 50% of prosecutions were performed by staff counsel and 50% by special counsel. Commencing in 1985 all disciplinary prosecutions throughout the State have been performed by the commission's staff attorneys, and the use of special counsel for prosecutions has been phased out.

Conclusion

In recent years the Michigan attorney disciplinary system has enjoyed a national reputation as a leader in production, effectiveness, and efficient utilization of resources. The Michigan disciplinary system processes more cases with fewer staff and at lesser cost than virtually any other major jurisdiction. The accomplishments in 1988 strengthen Michigan's reputation as a leader in disciplinary enforcement.

MICHIGAN JUDICIAL INSTITUTE

The Michigan Judicial Institute was created in 1977 by the Michigan Supreme Court as part of the fulfillment of its constitutional duty to assure that justice throughout the Michigan court system is administered fairly, efficiently, and with the fullest measure of professional excellence. Professional excellence on the part of judicial officers and others associated with the court system is the keystone of substantive and procedural justice, as well as efficient and effective court administration. To achieve these goals it is necessary that those responsible for the administration of justice have opportunities to develop and enhance their professional skills. Providing these opportunities for Michigan's 582 judges and approximately 7,500 court personnel is the mission of the Michigan Judicial Institute.

On an annual basis, the Institute provides continuing education seminars in three broad categories: judicial education, administrative personnel development, and court professional personnel development. In addition to its formal seminars, the Institute also provides a broad range of publications and services and conducts projects, all of which are designed to enhance the professional skills of those serving the Michigan court system.

The Michigan Supreme Court has appointed Justice Michael F. Cavanagh to supervise the activities of the Institute. The Institute's seminars are professionally prepared by twelve full-time staff members. In addition, the publications and services division of the Institute has four full-time staff members, three of whom are paid for by a grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation. In order to ensure that its programs and services meet the real continuing education needs of the court system, the Institute has established three academic advisory committees. These committees are composed of leading jurists from the Court of Appeals and from circuit, district, and probate courts and Recorder's Court of Michigan.

Funding for the Institute's programs comes primarily from an appropriation by the Michigan Legislature to the Michigan Supreme Court. Additional funding for specialized programs and projects comes from grants from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning, and the Michigan Criminal Justice Training Commission.

Each year over two hundred individuals participate as faculty for the Institute's programs. These faculty members include judges, law professors, lawyers, court personnel, and professional consultants from the private sector. The Institute's faculty are chosen for their expertise in their respective fields and for their ability as teachers.

Programs

During the 1987-1988 training year 2,149 judges and court personnel participated in 127 days of seminar programming offered by the Institute (see Table 12.1).

Publications

IMPACT

IMPACT is a bi-monthly publication prepared for trial court judges and other court personnel by the Institute's publication department. It includes summaries of recent appellate court decisions, new legislation, new court rules, administrative orders, jury instructions, and other matters of concern to Michigan court judges. It is distributed free of charge to all Michigan judges and to other selected professionals employed in the Michigan court system. Present circulation stands at 1,050.

BENCH GUIDES

In 1986 and 1987 the Institute published Volumes I and II of the Trial Court Bench Guides. Together the two volumes cover eleven subjects: Arraignments and Guilty Pleas in District Court, Issuance of Arrest Warrants, Issuance of Search Warrants, Sentencing in Circuit and District Courts, Criminal Pretrial Motions, Probation Revocation Proceedings, Contempt of Court, Termination of Parental Rights, Preliminary Examinations, and Setting of Bail.

The Bench Guides were written by judges for judges with research and editorial assistance from the Institute's publications staff. The Bench Guides contain scripts and checklists, as well as pertinent legal authorities. The emphasis throughout is on practical and easy to use references that trial judges can refer to when handling both routine and nonroutine cases.

The Bench Guides, as well as other Michigan Judicial Institute publications, are automatically distributed to all Michigan judges. The Bench Guides are regularly supplemented to keep them current.

BENCH BOOKS

With the assistance of a grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, the Institute will publish three Bench Books. The first Bench Books will cover probate and juvenile court proceedings and will be published in 1989. The second and third Bench Books will cover criminal and civil procedures for circuit and district courts, and will be published in 1990 and 1991.

COLLEAGUE

Colleague is a new Michigan Judicial Institute publication which began in January, 1988. It is published four times per year and contains practical but scholarly articles on subjects of special interest to Michigan judges. The articles are written by judges, law professors, attorneys, and professionals from other disciplines. Funding for Colleague is supported by a grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation.

HANDBOOK OF LEGAL TERMS

The Handbook of Legal Terms was produced by the Michigan Judicial Institute to meet the need of court employees who have no law school training yet work with the law and court procedures. It was prepared at the request of judges, court administrators, and other court supervisory personnel.

The handbook is a product of hundreds of interviews and the analysis of survey questionnaires completed by these court employees. It was revised in 1981 with the assistance of a wide range of judges and court officials, and a second revision is currently planned for the near future.

During 1988 the Institute distributed approximately 350 copies of the handbook within the Michigan court system.

Services

Audiovisual Resource Library

The Michigan Judicial Institute's Audiovisual Resource Library continues to serve the educational needs of Michigan's judges and court personnel by providing 222 audiotapes, videotapes, and films for both personal and court-wide training.

These resources are available without charge and can be ordered from the Resource Library Catalog which is disseminated throughout the court system.

A recent addition to the Resource Library was the inclusion of a series of 14 videotapes accompanied by extensive facilitator guides and participant materials designed for in-court employee training. These training packages focus on communicating and relating to the users of the court system. This project was in response to the report of the Citizen's Commission to Improve Michigan Courts with funding provided by the Michigan Criminal Justice Training Commission.

Faculty Development Project

Those from the Michigan court system and other professionals who teach in the Institute's seminars are selected because of their recognized competence and expertise. Since its inception the Institute has endeavored to provide every possible support to its faculty members.

Recently the W.K. Kellogg Foundation awarded a grant to the Institute to enhance its assistance to faculty. This grant allows the Institute to conduct a series of basic and advanced faculty development seminars. In addition an adult education consultant is available to assist individual faculty members in preparing for presentations and developing materials. The goal of this project is to provide the highest quality of continuing professional education to those who serve in Michigan's court system.

MICHIGAN JUDICIAL TENURE COMMISSION

Introduction

Michigan created its Judicial Tenure Commission when voters passed an amendment to Article VI, Sec. 30 of the Michigan Constitution in August, 1968. The enabling court rule is codified in MCR 9.200. The Judicial Tenure Commission serves to promote the integrity of the judicial process and preserve public confidence in the courts. It strives to hold judges accountable for their misconduct without jeopardizing or compromising the essential independence of the judiciary. The basis for commission action is a violation of the Code of Judicial Conduct or Rules of Professional Responsibility. The code is published with the Michigan Court Rules. A copy may be obtained from the commission upon request.

Goals

In addition to the commission's continued attempt to preserve the honesty and integrity of the judges of this state, it continues to seek passage of legislation to liberalize the eligibility requirements for early judicial disability retirement.

By means of its vigilance, the commission serves to repair and reinforce the fabric of justice which holds our society together.

Narrative of 1988 Activities

The commission has investigated 4,687 grievances against judicial officers since its inception in 1968, 421 of these investigations occurring during the reporting period of January 1 to December 31, 1988. Final disposition of 405 grievances in 1988 resulted in a period-ending caseload of 118 pending grievances.

A total of 761 grievance forms were mailed in response to written or telephone inquiries. The commission issued 15 advisory opinions, in addition to answering numerous general questions regarding the judiciary and the disciplinary process.

Formal Complaint No. 35

In its complaint filed March 14, 1986 the commission charged a judge with gross improper courtroom conduct and with gross abuse of contempt authority. While respondent pled no contest to the charges, the judge plead an affirmative defense claiming the judges' behavior resulted from an emotional disturbance for which the judge agreed to accept medical treatment and a rehabilitation program.

On May 16, 1986 the Supreme Court suspended respondent with pay. Following continued treatment and compliance with the proposed treatment plan, respondent was reinstated to the bench on February 10, 1987, conditioned by a six-month supervisory period. On January 20, 1988, supervision of respondent was extended for two additional years pursuant to a Supreme Court Order responding to the commission's recommendation filed October 21, 1987.

Formal Complaint No. 37

The commission's complaint, filed June 23, 1986, charged a judge with knowingly filing false financial information on credit applications in 21 instances of fraud occurring between 1980 and 1984, and further, that in 1985, respondent knowingly presented personal checks for which there were insufficient funds in his account. Respondent was charged with misconduct in office, conduct clearly prejudicial to the administration of justice, and violations of Section 1014 of the United States Criminal Code.

In November, 1986 the complaint was amended, charging respondent with making an improper assertion of his Fifth Amendment Right in wrongfully refusing to obey the Master's order to answer specific questions. The Master, in his report of February 17, 1987, ruled that respondent's refusal to testify did not constitute misconduct, and concluded that respondent's dishonesty in his credit applications constituted judicial misconduct but was not a violation of the United States Criminal Code.

On June 10, 1987, the commission filed its Decision and Recommendation for Order of Discipline seeking respondent's interim suspension without pay or benefits for three years or until restitution of indebtedness be made; that the suspension from office be for not less than six months; that prior to reinstatement respondent be required to pay the commission's costs; and that upon reinstatement respondent's financial affairs be monitored by a certified public accountant.

Upon respondent's June 11, 1987 Federal Grand Jury indictment, a Petition for Suspension was filed in the Supreme Court on July 12, 1987, resulting in that court's July 21, 1987 order suspending respondent with pay.

Following respondent's January 14, 1988 federal convictions on criminal charges, a Petition to Modify Order of Interim Suspension was filed January 19, 1988. Simultaneously, the Supreme Court, on its own motion, ordered respondent's continued suspension but without pay.

On February 26, 1988 the commission filed a superseding Recommendation of Discipline requesting respondent's removal from office. In lieu of contesting this recommendation, on April 22, 1988 respondent tendered his resignation effective May 2, 1988. By Supreme Court order of April 29, 1988 respondent was removed from office effective May 2, 1988.

Formal Complaint No. 38

In a complaint issued April 8, 1987 the commission formally charged a judge with prejudice against plaintiff's claims in a medical malpractice case by attempting to intimidate the defense into settling the case, chastising the jury for its award, ex parte communication with the defense attorneys who later used information respondent obtained from a juror in their Motion for an Order to Interview the Jury, by substantially reducing the jury award, and by speaking publicly on a radio broadcast regarding the merits of the case while the matter was still pending before her.

The hearing before the Master took place July 14-21, 1987 and the Master's report was submitted on February 8, 1988. The examiner's brief in opposition to, and respondent's brief in support of the Master's report were filed with the commission in April, 1988.

On May 18, 1988 with Commissioners Grant and Groner recusing themselves from consideration of this matter, the Commission issued its Decision and Order of Dismissal stating: "Following thorough consideration of this matter and a motion for the recommendation of discipline having received less than 5 votes, pursuant to MCR 9.221(A), the formal complaint is hereby dismissed."

Subsequent to the Order of Dismissal, a dissenting opinion was filed on May 23, 1988, by Commissioners Foley, Colista, and Hood concluding: "Our review of the complete record and transcript of this formal hearing demonstrates willful misconduct by the respondent and compels our disagreement with the plurality's determination. Therefore, we would have rejected the Master's Report and found instead that the judge committed judicial misconduct which warrants discipline by the Supreme Court."

An opinion concurring with the Decision and Order of Dismissal was filed July 25, 1988, by Commissioners Abbott, Gage, McCann, and Peebles-Meyers who stated: "The Master's conclusions are well supported by the Code of Judicial Conduct and the laws of this state. At most, the conduct of the respondent amounted to appellate issues which are presently being addressed in the appropriate forum. Therefore, we concur in the Decision and Order of Dismissal of this complaint, as previously entered."

Formal Complaint No. 39

A formal complaint, along with a Petition for Interim Suspension, was filed against a judge on May 3, 1988 charging him with gross improper conduct, and in certain instances criminal behavior, in violation of the standards of judicial conduct under MCR 9.205. The allegations arose from four separate incidents involving respondent's uninvited sexual advances, three of which concerned defendants who had appeared before him and one concerning a court employee.

Prior to the hearing before the Master, which took place on July 25 and 26, 1988, the Petition for Interim Suspension was held in abeyance by the Supreme Court since respondent voluntarily ceased hearing cases during the pendency of the complaint.

The Master, in his report to the commission, found respondent guilty of all of the essential allegations of the complaint. Following the filing of the examiner's brief in support of, and respondent's brief in opposition to the Master's report, and oral argument before the commission on December 19, 1988, it submitted to the Supreme Court its Decision and Recommendation to remove respondent from office and enjoin him from holding public office in the future. At the close of this reporting period the decision of the Supreme Court was still pending.

STATE APPELLATE DEFENDER OFFICE

The State Appellate Defender Office (SADO) was established in 1970 by Michigan Supreme Court Administrative Order 1970-1. Its purpose was to provide competent, high quality legal representation of indigent criminal defendants in postconviction matters. The Office currently operates under 1978 PA 620 (MCL 780.711 et seq.) as the fully state-funded public component of the Michigan Appellate Assigned Counsel System It is governed by the seven-member State Appellate Defender Commission, which also oversees the private component of the system. Under this system SADO is to receive 25% of all indigent criminal appeals, with the remaining 75% going to locally appointed private counsel.

Defender James R. Neuhard directs the operations of SADO. The private roster component of the appellate assigned counsel (MAACS) is administered by Barbara R. Levine. The Commission adopted regulations for operation of the system, and full operation of the mixed (public defender/private roster) appellate representation scheme began on December 2, 1985.

Under the Commission's regulatory scheme, SADO appears on local assigned counsel rosters in every third, fourth, or fifth slot depending on the ratio of attorneys to the number of criminal felony appeals taken in that particular jurisdiction. Local appointing authorities sequentially appoint either SADO or private defense counsel from those rosters.

Thus, SADO may receive anywhere from one-third to one-fifth of the appellate assignments from a given jurisdiction but no less than 25% of the State's total number of indigent felony appeals, which according to MAACS, was approximately, 4,230 in 1988. SADO accepted 898 of these assignments counting substitutions (MAACS puts the total at 899 without substitutions). This is a 5.5% increase over the number accepted in 1987, but still only 21% of the total indigent criminal appeals.

Between 1979 and 1986, SADO accepted an average of about 700 cases a year. However, over the last two years the number of assignments to SADO would have exceeded 900 if the Commission had not stopped intake. If SADO had received 25% of the State's appellate appointments this year, as is expected when all jurisdictions begin complying with the MAACS Regulations, the total number of new assignments would have exceeded 1,060: 305 (40%) more than its capacity of 755. Even with the three new attorney positions added for 1989, intake shut-downs will still be required because those attorneys will enable SADO to handle only 860 of the projected 1,153 assignments for next year (25% of the projected 4,614 State totals), leaving 293 excess cases to be handled by other counsel.

SADO attorneys review transcripts and lower court record; visit and interview clients at Michigan's 42 prisons, camps, and community corrections centers scattered across the state; investigate facts; research issues; file all necessary pleadings; conduct post-conviction hearings in state and federal trial courts; and present oral arguments at all levels of the Michigan and Federal judiciaries.

During 1988, the defender, chief deputy defender, sixteen assistant defenders, legal resources project director, and training coordinator were housed in the Detroit office. Four assistant defenders and the deputy defender were housed in the Lansing office. Ten and one-half legal secretaries, the chief investigator and a paralegal assistant, eight administrative assistants, two and one-half clerks, and one receptionist support the legal staff. Special assistant defenders, postgraduate legal research assistants, and part-time law students were also periodically employed as support. As has been done for the past eighteen years, one SADO attorney was housed at and received clerical support from the University of Michigan Law School while teaching the appellate practice course there.

Volunteers from schools, government and civic organizations, and other criminal justice programs also provided some much needed assistance.

Activities and Workload Analysis

In 1988 SADO's 19 (20 for part of the year) assistant defender's, and the chief deputy and deputy defenders handled a combined total of 826 new cases. The Special Unit, which included the chief deputy defender, the unit manager and 4 other assistant defenders handled 324 of these assignments. The Special Unit is designed to provide expedited relief and to process a high volume of simple cases with similar issues. Special Unit attorneys handle about twice as many cases as regular assistant defenders.

The 826 cases assigned to attorneys included; 29 special assignments (these range from United States Supreme Court briefs to responses to prosecutor appeals); 449 plea; and 348 trial appeals.

Even with a one month shutdown of intake in June, SADO still received a record 898 new assignments in 1988 (see table 14.1). In an effort to control assignments to SADO to avoid overload, the Commission gave SADO strict orders not to accept more assignments from any jurisdiction than allotted by the MAACS Regulations. In December, 1988 SADO and the Commission filed an action for superintending control against the judges of one judicial circuit because they refused to comply with the Regulations, assigning SADO all of their indigent criminal appeals except for conflict cases. The case is now pending in the Michigan Supreme Court on application to by-pass the Court of Appeals, where it originally was filed.

Collateral Activity and Special Projects

The Legal Resources Project completed twelve years of service to the criminal justice community during 1988. It responded to over 4,200 requests for information and assistance from attorneys (assigned and retained) and incarcerated individuals, provided more than 26,000 pages of materials and maintained a mailing list and database of over 2,243 individuals. Of those individuals, approximately 323 were judges and 1,591 were criminal defense attorneys. Nine issues and an index of the Criminal Defense Newsletter were distributed to over 1,500 subscribers. The project summarized over 260 opinions and orders issued by the Court of Appeals, Michigan Supreme Court, and federal courts. Approximately 450 individuals received the project's opinion summaries. The project reached individuals in 78 counties and 174 cities in Michigan. There were 44 out-of-state requests. The brief bank contained over 5,700 SADO briefs and over 350 non-SADO briefs from MAACS attorneys and other contributors. The 1987 Supplement to the Defender Trial Book was completed and distribution begun in April, 1988. Over 1,500 copies of the supplement were distributed. The Supplement numbered over 325 pages. There were over 441 orders for the reprint of the 1985 edition of the Defender Trial Book, 3rd edition, which also became available in April, 1988.

Under the auspices of the State Appellate Defender Commission, Michigan Justice Training funds obtained by SADO, MAACS, and the Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan enabled those organizations to continue producing training materials and conducting vital training for attorneys representing indigent criminal defendants.

SADO's effort to expand its presence in Michigan law schools suffered a setback in 1988: The Wayne State University Law School had a clerical staff labor strike, and the Law School administration was unable to provide the space and support SADO needed to teach the proposed appellate practice course there. However, one SADO staff attorney did teach the Criminal Appellate Practice Course at the University of Michigan Law School, and several other SADO attorneys lectured at the Cooley Law School and supervised Cooley and Wayne State University law students assigned to SADO's Detroit and Lansing offices.

SADO attorneys again participated in legislative hearings on matters relating to criminal justice and worked with legislators and legislative committees on criminal law and corrections matters. They also served on many boards, commissions, committees, and task forces working on criminal justice programs at both the state and national levels. SADO attorneys were faculty and participants in a full spectrum of criminal justice activities.

Goals

SADO will continue to seek funding for the resources it needs to provide effective, high-quality, cost efficient representation in its 25% of the ever expanding number of indigent appeals taken annually and to support the private component of Michigan's unified indigent appellate defense delivery system and the criminal defense bar in general. It will continue to publish training materials, practice and procedure books, and manuals; distribute the Criminal Defense Newsletter and opinion summaries; and conduct and participate in various training programs.
